CHRISTMAS 1 MONTHS' PRET $351,779

Bulletin Bullets BY HARRY R. FARMER

San Francisco headline: "Fourth Santa Day of Santa Claus Says: 'That's what we call doing their Christmas, shocking early.'"

Chief of Police says there's no need for a curfew law in Montreal—There's no need for curfew laws, but what's that got to do with it?

Some kind of crime may be increasing, but two police magazines have quit publication.

Newspaper says Italian bachelors are rushing into marriage in New York—Some of the bachelors are getting their head off by the exchange of letters.

In France it's illegal to initiate bouquet cases—Lucky for them they don't live in France.

Headlines in Toronto Daily Star: "Who Wants Harry Potter Christmas Gift?"—How Old Is Harry?

Vancouver Province says, "Christmas Spirit is Sweeping Over the City"—Our own liquor stores are getting busy, too.

Ontario has made a reduction of five dollars on auto licenses—Common mistake—Shouldn't have been a five dollar increase.

"Thousands of girls are looking to get a husband" according to a headline writer—And so are thousands of wives.

Which is more, plain apple-kiss in the Philippines, a news item, says—Sometimes we wonder our winter-wilds are made from plain apples.

As in a Vancouver paper: "Alaska—Know of one or two good locations. Are you interested?"—Let no muskrat ever read the paper.

"Trouble in Balkans Now Is Peace" is headline—Sounds like they're getting back to normal.

Market reports: "Turkey 25 cents a pound—We've got a suspicion that bird's trying to run things up in Christmas."

A NEW ENCYCLOPEDIA Ambition: "Ambition: the quality of wanting to be great."—So that when they read this they can go to sleep.

In world flags: "Of course the world shall praise their names."—And then it's time to go to sleep.

Looked at in this heroic kind of way: "I have a very great ambition, I hope a wish."—That's all it's worth.

And he has been good and kind: "I have been good and kind."—That's all it's worth.

DOMINIONS OF EMPIRE GAIN IN CONFERENCE

Liberal, Conservative and Radical Opinion On Result Expressed

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Liberal, Conservative and Radical representatives of British opinion agreed Saturday at a luncheon of the Foreign Policy Association that an advance toward independence of the dominions within the British empire has resulted from the recent imperial conference at London.

Some difference of opinion was shown as to how much of an advance is represented.

John Ambridge, secretary of the Canadian Association, criticized the report of the conference as ambiguous. It contradicted itself, he said, one part declaring the dominions sovereign or independent, while another part common allegiance to the crown, and another part declaring the dominions remain the dominions of the empire.

Frederick H. Evans, head of the British Empire League, said the report was an indication of a new constitutional independence of British dominions.

Ambridge declared for the results of the conference was Wilfrid M. Watson, secretary of the London Times.

Watson said the British Empire has been brought into a new unity, and the world problem is now being solved by the British Empire.

Getting On To Christmas
By EDGAR A. GUEST

It's getting on to Christmas
And the heart of you is glad.
I watch the Christmas antics
And I'm certain I'm glad.
And I chuckle with contentment
When I see the boys
To get old Mr. Santa
To get old Mr. Santa.

It was marked with winter
But old Santa Claus will wink
And he's waiting up for supper
With his weary old eyes.
As he ponders every line
Of the children's letters.
And he's talking out of his nose
Little articles he sees.
He's vaguely, but still hoping
To know what his speeches mean.

Now the mother sits musing
One line after another
Since it's getting on to Christmas
And she's waiting up for supper.
Oh, it's good to sit and watch them,
Mother, little girl and all.
All so lovely, and so artful.
Thinking they are feeling bad.

OUT OUR WAY

AIN'T GOT NO BEARD
AIN'T GOT NO WHISKERS!
HOW'S THEM FEEL-HUH?
BURY YOUR FACE IN 'EM
AN SCREAM 'LL HEAR 'EM!

MAAH!
MA UH!
HE'S RUBBING
HIS WHISKERS!

WHY YOU BIG GOOSE!
ALL THAT QUACKING OVER
A LITTLE PEACH DOWN!
WHAT ARE YOU GOING
TO DO IF YOU GET A
HUSBAND WITH WHISKERS
LIKE SANDPAPER? COME
CACKLING HOME TO ME
EH?

Another Popular Explanation
Each official at Ottawa conclude that drinking is on the increase in Canada, because while more liquor is being made it is being exported largely. Still the inference may be faulty. The Commissioners conducting the smuggling probe might be able to suggest an alternative explanation of the vanishing surplus. They seem to have a suspicion at least a suspicion that liquor is sometimes exported illegally.

Bait For Criminals
By DR. FRANK CHASE

An attention-drawing display of gems or valuable jewelry is not only bad taste, but it is also a sure way to attract criminals. A certain woman was several expensive diamonds and jewelry which she kept locked in a safe. One day she was out and the safe was open. The Chicago dealer in diamonds and jewelry in a large, ornate and expensive safe and was the owner of all the jewelry. She was also a victim of the same. She was also a victim of the same. She was also a victim of the same.

A Matter of Viewpoint.

The captain of a certain U. S. gunboat on the Yangtze river apparently does not share the view of Senator Allen that the Chinese are endeavoring to carry on their warlike operations in place without interference from outside. When the victorious forces of General Yang Su encountered three U. S. river steamers without paying for them, the skipper of the Elcano promptly cleared his decks, trained his guns on the Chinese and fired a warning shot in sight, and ordered the General to release the boats. Also, no doubt to his entire satisfaction in the somewhat ticklish circumstances, two British gunboats stood by to see that the order was complied with.

Saskatoon Threatens To Withdraw From Hockey League

WANT GORDON AND DENNEY

May Not Place Team on Ice for Next Thursday's Game

SASKATOON, Dec. 20.—The Saskatoon Hawks threaten to withdraw from professional hockey. This was the startling announcement made by Ben Hoeschen, one of the owners of the Saskatoon Hockey Club of the Prairie League last night.

"Unless President Seaborn takes steps immediately to have players Fred Gordon and Corbett Denney returned to us we will not place a team on the ice for our next game against Regina Capitals here Thursday night," said Mr. Hoeschen. Fred Gordon, who is with the Regina Capitals here Thursday night, was the star of the Saskatoon Hawks last night.
